

2 FEBRUARY 2024: TRURO SCHOOL NEWS AND UPDATES

Dear Parents, Carers and Guardians

Today our school was awash with colour, fashion and style as pupils and staff took part in non-uniform day to raise funds for two important charities: Young Minds and The Wave project. Thank you to the Charity Team for leading Chapel Services this week to raise awareness about the important work these charities do to support young people with mental health.

Next week is Children's Mental Health Week; an awareness week to empower, equip, and give a voice to all children and young people.

At school, our Pastoral team are always available to listen and respond to pupils' concerns and will act to ensure the very best outcomes for our pupils. In all areas of school life, our pupils are encouraged to show compassion and empathy towards others in everyday actions and decisions. A simple act of kindness or a smile can really make a difference to somebody's day. The organisation behind Children's Mental Health Week has some great resources to help schools and families support young people, more details can be found here.

This half term Ms Egar and I visited 4th Year lessons to learn more about the different ways in which our pupils are engaging in their learning. It was a joy to watch pupils grapple with new ideas, work alongside each other and show resilience and problem solve when something didn't go according to plan. Our focus on learning scores to underpin successful learning behaviours is truly supporting our pupils to be confident and courageous in their own learning.

Next week some of our teachers will draw on their own learning to present to colleagues during our Twilight Professional Learning session. Across the evening, colleagues will share good practice to support innovation and creativity in the classroom. These sessions put learners at the heart of teaching and learning development and staff welcome the opportunity to work alongside their colleagues to explore different approaches to classroom practice. Pasties and tea provide the additional fuel for the evening!

As I finish writing this, the sun is shining and there is a subtle sense that Spring may be just around the corner. For some of our pupils, warmer climates are on the horizon. Our 4th and 5th Year pupils are in Alicante this week to immerse themselves in Spanish life and language. Next week, our surfers travel to Morocco to enjoy half term in the waves, and, closer to home, a group are heading to Dartmoor for their Ten Tors day walk. All of these trips are great opportunities for our pupils to experience new challenges, learn new skills, and form lasting friendships.

Wishing you all a lovely, restful weekend.

Emma Mitchell

2 FEBRUARY: TRURO SCHOOL NEWS AND UPDATES

Lower Sixth Explore STEM

The Lower Sixth Physicists recently had an incredible opportunity to visit Plymouth University and gain firsthand experience of university life and the diverse range of STEM courses available after completing their A-levels. The day was filled with interactive exhibits that left a lasting impression on the students.

They had the chance to explore the fascinating world of science through activities such as using an electron microscope, trying out a COMMS diving mask, and witnessing the application of robotics in medicine.

The day at Plymouth University served as a catalyst for inspiration and enthusiasm among the students as they begin contemplating their future paths.

Congratulations School House!

In the thrilling finale of the Top House Quiz, our 4th and 5th Year teams faced a high-stakes battle of wits. With fingers on buzzers and no conferring allowed, the contestants had their general knowledge, spelling skills, and familiarity with British heroes tested. The competition was fierce, and each team fought valiantly to secure victory.

In an impressive display of general knowledge with tremendous geographical answers from one of the players, School House emerged triumphant with a commanding lead of seventeen points to eleven points.

Congratulations to Tom N, Andrew R, Dylan O, and Felix D for securing the win for School House.

Mental Health Awareness Day

The Community Action group took the initiative to raise awareness about mental health ahead of this week's Charity Day. The focus was on highlighting the efforts of two significant local charities: Young Minds and The Wave Project.

Young Minds is a mental health charity dedicated to supporting children and young people, offering a wealth of free advice and assistance to both young people and their parents.

2 FEBRUARY: TRURO SCHOOL NEWS AND UPDATES

Dynamics of Lava Flows

Our 4th Year geology pupils have been exploring lava flows and the various factors influencing their behaviour. By simulating some specific volcanic conditions, they have gained valuable insights into the impact of slope and magma composition on the destructive potential of volcanoes.

To conduct their experiments, pupils substituted lava with strawberry jelly, which was heated to different temperatures to adjust its viscosity. They then focused on studying how the angle of slope affected the flow of "lava" and measured a response to different angles. Additionally, they explored the influence of lava composition by introducing sand and observed its impact on the flow dynamics.

Homage to the Humble Croissant

MFL pupils were invited to showcase their creativity by composing a short poem or prose about this beloved crescent-shaped pastry.

In class, pupils looked at the work of French poet Francis Ponge, known for his ability to capture the beauty of everyday objects in his poetry, including his renowned poem "Le Pain." Drawing inspiration from Ponge's work, pupils were encouraged to craft their own pieces of writing. Mrs. Le Bihan Murphy was incredibly impressed with the high writing standard and commended those who applied their recent topic work in class to this writing challenge. <https://www.truroschoo.com/parents/news-galleries/>

Delightful Delicacies

Wednesday afternoons are filled with a range of wonderful activities including a wide range of cooking in our Truro School Cookery School.

This term pupils from the 4th Year upwards have been enjoying a taste of patisserie. This week they delved into the art of Swiss rolls, perfecting a light sponge, and making a raspberry filling before decorating as they wished.

Creativity with Clay

Creativity has been in full flow in our ceramics department as pupils across the years have been enjoying making a range of dishes during WAA.

All the pupils have taken their own spin on the project with some going for traditional round dishes whilst others are creating floral-shaped ones and even vases.

WAA allows our pupils to mix with other like-minded peers doing activities they enjoy.

1st Years Maths Challenge

Our 1st Years had their first go at a maths challenge this week, competing against their peers to win points for their houses. In teams, they spent time problem-solving through a range of questions.

It was great to see so many involved battling for their house, and it really was a close competition.

Burrell Society Lecture

Sixth Formers were treated to an extraordinary lecture by climber and adventurer, Ben Heason. Ben captivated the audience as he shared insights into his career as a climber, particularly highlighting his remarkable achievement of being the first team to conquer Angel Falls in Venezuela.

This awe-inspiring adventure demanded months of meticulous planning and preparation, culminating in a gruelling 20-day ascent of the world's tallest waterfall, measuring a staggering 980 meters—eleven times the height of Big Ben. <https://www.truroschool.com/parents/news-galleries/>

Dancers Shine in Showcase

Truro School dancers joined secondary schools from across Cornwall in a dazzling dance and drama spectacular at the Hall for Cornwall.

Their vibrant performances featured members of the Friday dance club, who energised the audience with an upbeat routine set to the beats of Tom Walker's "Burn." Meanwhile, Wednesday's dance group showcased their artistry with a captivating contemporary dance performance, choreographed to Cody Fry's "Underground." <https://www.truroschoo.com/parents/news-galleries/>

Super Sporting Round Up

Our sporting calendar is still in full swing, with a record number of pupils taking part in a wide range of sports. So far this year 19 different sports have been played with around 60% of the school taking part in the 250 fixtures played so far.

Recent sporting action has seen the U13 footballers beat Harrodian School in the quarter-final of the Independent Schools Cup 5-4. It was a terrific game that was played in excellent spirit. The team now goes forward to the semi-finals which they'll play at home on the 24th of this month.

Many Truro School swimmers took to the pool over the weekend to represent their club in the 2024 County Swimming Championships. Well done to all swimmers who took part, it was great to see so many pupils gain personal best times across several events as well as securing a multitude of medal positions.

It was fantastic to see so many of our netballers taking to the courts on Wednesday for friendly matches against Penrice Academy. Players from 1st to 4th Year played some fantastic netball, which was lovely to see.

Last week, we welcomed our Prep U11 team to take on the U12s in some games of badminton. It was brilliant to have the Year 6s over to the SBA, and it was a wonderful afternoon of sports played. Well done everyone.
